MEDIA RELEASE
August 5, 2015
Media Contact: Julianna Verboort, 253-272-4258 x3011 or JVerboort@TacomaArtMuseum.org

Fall Arts at Tacoma Art Museum: Exhibitions, Programs, and Events
September – December 2015

EXHIBITIONS

Art AIDS America
Politics. Sex. Religion. Loss. Beauty. Since the first reports of mysterious illnesses, HIV and AIDS have shaped art, politics, medicine, and pop culture. This fall, Tacoma Art Museum proudly presents Art AIDS America, a groundbreaking exhibition that underscores the deep and unforgettable presence of HIV in American art. Art AIDS America will be the first comprehensive overview and reconsideration of 30 years of art made in response to the AIDS epidemic in the United States. Learn how this crisis redirected the course of American Art in the 1980s and continues to influence art today. Art AIDS America is a story of resilience and beauty revealed through art, and the community that gathered to bring hope and change. Organized by Tacoma Art Museum.

Roger Shimomura: An American Knockoff
On view through September 13, 2015
What is your American identity? Roger Shimomura’s lively pop art paintings pack a punch with messages about stereotypes, race, and identity. An American Knockoff is sure to spark conversation among your friends and family. Featuring 53 paintings and prints in a style that combines Shimomura’s childhood love of comic books with his interest in pop art and Japanese woodblock prints. Organized and distributed by the Museum of Art/Washington State University, Pullman, WA.

Partners in Northwest Art: Selections from the Aloha Club Collection at Tacoma Art Museum

On view through September 13, 2015

Are you curious about how art museums build their collections? Learn more and celebrate the Aloha Club’s 45-year partnership with TAM in an exhibition of works selected from the Club’s gifts to the museum.

---

Art of the American West: The Haub Family Collection

On view through October 18, 2015

Works on view will close between October 19 and November 8 as new exhibitions are installed in each gallery, featuring many new works from the Haub Family Collection.

From the shores of Puget Sound, to the tallest peaks of the Rocky Mountains, to the banks of the Missouri River, the artwork of the American West informs our perceptions of this varied region. This inaugural exhibition of the Haub Family Collection at Tacoma Art Museum spans more than 200 years of work by historic and contemporary artists. The artworks examine ideas of American identity over time, delve into storytelling and mythmaking, and explore the vast American landscape. See how concepts of the West—both real and imagined—have continually changed and evolved and still influence us today.

(Re)Presenting Native Americans
Opens November 21, 2015

What is the “American identity,” and how has the artwork of the American west affected your ideas of American identity? Focusing on images of Native Americans created from the late 1800s to today, this exhibition explores how artists of different eras and backgrounds represent Indigenous cultures. This exhibition will inspire visitors to ponder how they would want to be represented.

Artists Drawn to the West
Opens November 21, 2015

Inspire your inner explorer with the vast landscapes of the American west. From the Hudson River school to modernism, this exhibition examines artistic styles, trends, and movements that influenced the imagery and perceptions of the American west. See works by Albert Bierstadt, Thomas Moran, and other painters and sculptors who connected the art of the West to larger movements in American and European art.

Image credit: Nicolai Fechin (1881-1955), The First Snow, circa 1930. Oil on canvas,18 ¼ × 31 ¼ inches. Tacoma Art Museum, Haub Family Collection, Promised gift of Erivan and Helga Haub.

Northwest Cowboys in Art
October 31, 2015 – May 15, 2016

Meet a roundup of local cowboys, artfully captured on canvas. From Pendleton to Ellensburg, cowboys, ranching, and rodeos have been part of Pacific Northwest culture for over 100 years. Explore artistic reflections from Alexander Phimister Proctor’s sculptures to William Cumming’s paintings and creations by working cowboys such as Fred Oldfield.

Saddles, Spurs, and Quirts: The Art of Leatherworking

October 31, 2015 – May 15, 2016

In a display of highly decorated saddles, bridles, quirts, and spurs, this exhibition demonstrates how everyday items of cowboy culture become an impetus for complex design, ornamentation, and collaboration between artists. With this selection of embellished equestrian objects borrowed from a regional private collection, makers from Mexico to Oregon bridge the divide between art and function, showcasing the creativity of contemporary cowboy culture in North America.

---

Dale Chihuly at Tacoma Art Museum

On extended view.

See a retrospective of Tacoma native Dale Chihuly’s art glass creations from early in his career to more recent works.

---

Richard Rhodes and Ma Chihuly Floats

See the floats before they’re gone! The Ma Chihuly Floats are installed on the stone sculpture in TAM’s interior courtyard but go back into storage in October.

Image courtesy Tacoma Art Museum.

---

October is Tacoma Arts Month, sponsored by the Tacoma Arts Commission. Tacoma Art Museum is proud to participate. Enjoy special arts and cultural programs around town and at TAM all month long!
COMMUNITY ART INSTALLATIONS

Annual Washington State High School Photography Competition
Winning student photos will be on view September 1 – 22, 2015.

Tacoma’s Stadium High School Printmaking Show
See works by talented local students from October 13 – November 3, 2015.

Franke Tobey Jones Artists
Works by local seniors are on view from November 10 – December 8, 2015.

PROGRAMS and EVENTS

Find out more and register for programs at www.tacomaartmuseum.org/events

Curator Talk: Jonathan D. Katz, PhD
Sunday, October 4, 2 pm
Join Art AIDS America co-curator and one of the nation’s trailblazing scholars on gay and lesbian art history as he speaks about the exhibition.
Cost: $10 ($5 member/student with ID)

Artist Talk and Reception: Micha Cárdenas
Third Thursday, October 15, 6:30 pm
Join artist and theorist Micha Cárdenas as she discusses the prevalence of HIV among trans women of color. Find out more about efforts to end violence against this population. Partner Program presented by University of Puget Sound and Art+Sci Salon.
Cost: Free

Free Community Festival: 11th Annual Dia De Los Muertos
Sunday, November 1, 10 am – 4 pm
Be part of TAM’s most popular festival, the annual Dia de los Muertos celebration! New highlights this year include a calavera costume contest, traditional foods, and outdoor memorials. See more than 20 community altars honoring loved ones and ancestors, listen to lively mariachi music, and leave your own creative mark through hands-on activities.
Cost: Free
Expert Talk: The AIDS Memorial Quilt – Sewing a Story of Loss, Remembrance, and Community

Julie Rhoad, President and CEO, The NAMES Project Foundation

Sunday, November 15, 2 pm

The AIDS Memorial Quilt made artists of all of us. This is a story of art bringing people and community together. Rhoad shares the history of the Quilt and discusses its evolution from a personal memorial to the world’s largest example of folk art.

In June of 1987, a small group of strangers gathered in a San Francisco storefront to document the lives they feared history would neglect. Their goal was to create a memorial for those who had died of AIDS, and to thereby help people understand the devastating impact of the disease. This meeting of devoted friends and lovers served as the foundation of the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt. Today the Quilt is a powerful visual reminder of the AIDS pandemic. More than 48,000 individual 3-by-6-foot memorial panels — most commemorating the life of someone who has died of AIDS — have been sewn together by friends, lovers and family members.

Cost: $10 ($5 member/student with ID)

Drop-In Art Workshop: Activism and Printmaking

Third Thursday, November 19, 5:30 – 7:30 pm

Are you inspired by the creative graphics and bold slogans of street posters, campaign posters, and grass-roots movements? Make your own prints in this drop-in studio experience with Janet Marcavage and University of Puget Sound students. Learn quick printmaking fundamentals and explore the role of art in affecting social change.

$15 ($10 member/student with ID)

Community Conversation: Faith and Positivity – An Interfaith Panel about HIV/AIDS

Third Thursday, November 19, 6 – 7 pm

HIV/AIDS is a human crisis that knows no boundaries. Join Tacoma community leaders in a conversation about spirituality, religion, and HIV/AIDS. Learn about the role of faith-based organizations in providing spiritual and personal support to those diagnosed with HIV/AIDS and the people who love them, and in breaking down the fear, barriers, and stereotypes around HIV/AIDS. Be part of a discussion on what faith based groups are doing to raise awareness and support the search for a cure.

Cost: Free
Save the Date: World AIDS Day at TAM
December 1, 2015

Participate in World AIDS Day at TAM. Program offered in partnership with Pierce County AIDS Foundation. For details, check TAM’s website in November at www.TacomaArtMuseum.org/AAA.

Artist Talk and Performance: Karen Finley

Positive Attitude: Art in Response to AIDS
Saturday, December 5, 2015, 2 pm

For nearly a decade, Finley created artworks that responded to the AIDS crisis. In the form of installation, murals, sanctuaries, performance, spoken word, and public art, Finley presents works that invite participation, mourning, and recognition for those who died.

Frustrated by the lack of government response and enraged by the refusal of traditional memorial services by family and religious institutions, Finley began a series of artworks to bring compassion to the public expression of grief. Finley presents an overview of her artworks and performs selections from her infamous performance texts of that era. A book signing and artist reception follows the presentation.

$10 ($5 member/student with ID)

COMING WINTER 2016

Painted Journeys: The Art of John Mix Stanley
January 30 – May 1, 2016

Stanley traveled thousands of miles crisscrossing the western territories in the mid-1800s, venturing as far as the kingdom of Hawaii. The prolific painter is best known for his portraits of American Indians created for his Indian Gallery (housed at the Smithsonian before the gallery burned to the ground 150 years ago). As the official artist with Isaac Steven’s railroad survey expedition in 1853, Stanley’s sketches helped chart the course for the Northern Pacific Railway—which connected Tacoma to the Great Lakes and greatly contributed to the development of our city. See 60 of Stanley’s key works in this retrospective. Organized by the Buffalo Bill Center of the West, Cody, Wyoming.

Image credit: John Mix Stanley (American, 1814 - 1872), Young Chief, 1868. Oil on canvas, 20 × 16 inches. Tacoma Art Museum, Haub
The landscapes in Edvard Munch’s work reflect his psychological and emotional states, a correlation that remained consistent even as his style changed over the course of his career. One frequently recurring motif in Munch’s life and art is the sea, both coastal settings and the many fjords carved in the Norwegian landscape.

Organized in conjunction with the 125th anniversary of the founding of Tacoma’s Pacific Lutheran University.

About Tacoma Art Museum
Celebrating 80 years as a center for cultural enrichment and inspiration, TAM’s mission is connecting people through art. The museum accomplishes this through thoughtful exhibitions, exciting events, and dynamic programming. The museum is an anchor in the city’s downtown, and holds a collection of more than 4,500 works emphasizing the art and artists of the Northwest and broader western region.

HOURS – Tuesdays–Sundays 10 am–5 pm. Third Thursday 10 am–8 pm.
ADMISSION – Adult $14; Student age 6-17, Military, Senior (65+) $12; Family $35 (2 adults and up to 4 children under 18). Children 5 and under free. Third Thursdays free from 5–8 pm. Members always free.