

Jefferson/Hood Street Surface Water Interceptor Project

CONSTRUCTION UPDATE

Hood Street at Pacific Avenue will be closed starting October 31

As early as October 31, crews working for the City of Tacoma will close Hood Street at Pacific Avenue to install a storm drain on Prairie Line Trail and restore 15th Street and Court A. The northbound travel lane on Hood Street from Pacific Avenue near the Tacoma Art Museum will be restricted for up to 4 weeks. Access will be maintained southbound on Hood Street and from the south entrance near Washington State History Museum parking lot. See map for how to access to and from Tacoma Art Museum, the U.S. District Court, and Washington State History Museum parking lots.

Location

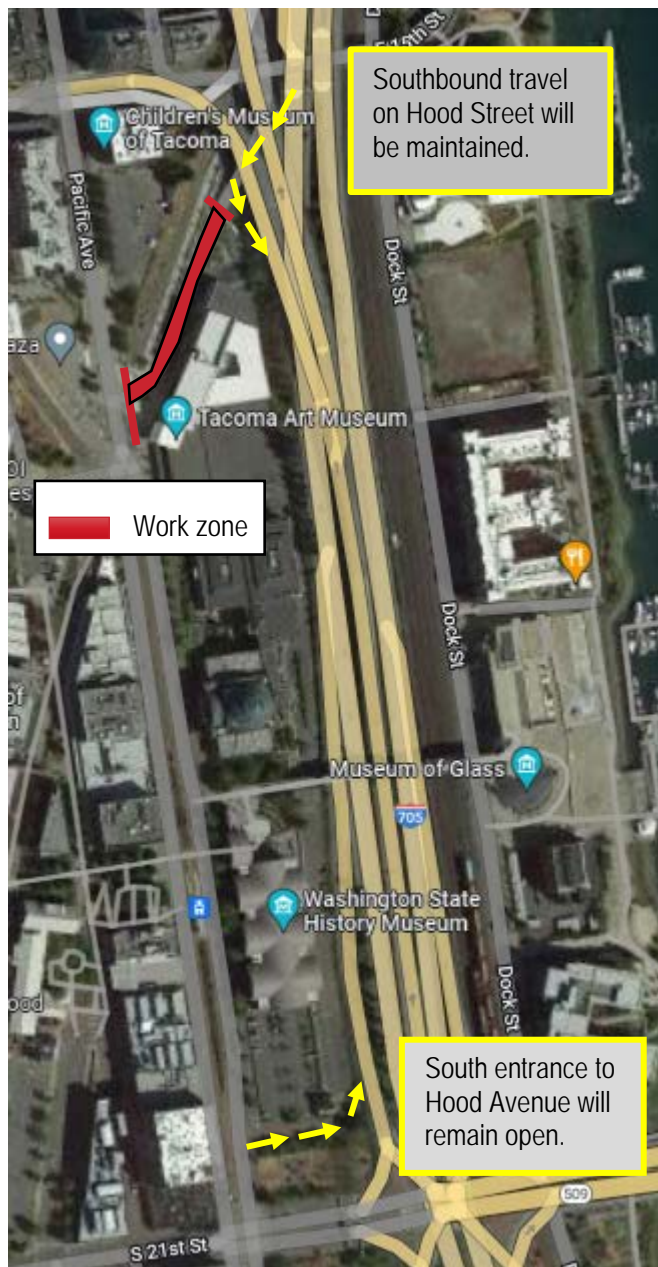

Hood Street at Pacific Avenue. See for approximate location.

Schedule

The closure will start as early as October 31 and last up to 4 weeks. This closure will be in place 24-hours a day.

What to expect during this closure

- Heavy construction equipment, loud construction noise, dirt, and vibrations.
- Street closure along Hood Street.
- Access to Hood Avenue will be accessible to vehicles traveling southbound from Hood Street and E 15th Street and at the southern entrance just south of the Washington State History Museum parking lot.
- Traveling Northbound on Hood Street will be restricted between Pacific Avenue and S 15th St.
- Pedestrian detours are signed in the area.
- Note that start date, duration, and work hours are subject to change.
